

Director - Brian Edmond

Brian has worked as a professional actor and theatre director. He toured Queensland with TN2 and performed at Expo 88. He was cast as a baby mammoth in Michael Gow's first show as director of Queensland Theatre Company - The Skin of our Teeth.

Brian has worked with La Boite theatre company, Mixed Company and Trocadero Productions just to name a few.

Brian also ran his own theatre company in Brisbane called on giants' shoulders to much critical acclaim as well as directing musicals as professional director in Roma, Gladstone and Kingaroy.

Brian met his wife, Lisa, in Trocadero Productions' The White Devil and, more recently, Brian appeared as Patsy in the TCOS production of Spamalot and The Governor in NQOMT's production of Best Little Whorehouse in Texas.

Brian also directed TCOS' recent production of My Fair Lady and he is looking forward to rising to the challenge of NQOMT's production of Hair and is excited to see as many people as possible audition.
